

Response from Rich Chrysler to a question about a glove box guide on a BJ8

Ned,

I took these pictures today to help you sort out where the glove box guide mount and pivot should be. I apologize for the old glove box interior but it does show the slot and where the chrome pivot comes through for the sliding guide.

Also included is the correct style and arrangement for the choke cable and how it mounts into the counterbore on the back side of the dash wood.

Note also how the switch panel is trimmed and that the holes for the switches have yet to be cut in the new vinyl.

Hope these help.

Rich Chrysler
