

Installation of Speakers

I installed a radio and speakers in my BJ8 several years ago and have attached a few images for you to see what I did. I decided that I did not want to spoil the look of the console, so I fabricated side panels, and mounted the radio in one of them and then used a blanking plate for the front. I mounted 6x9 dual element speakers up in the dash and the back of the dash or firewall acts as a reflective surface to eliminate the need for ugly housings or holes in the passenger compartment. I can hear the music selections quit well with the top down, vent windows open and going well in excess of the speed limit. I still might have the patterns if you would like to copy what I did.
